

AUTHOR AGREEMENT

Author Agreement for Publication, Reproduction and Communication of Your Work by the Australian Archaeological Association Inc.

Notes to Agreement

- a. Your contribution WILL NOT be published until the Editors of the Journal receive this Agreement. You should read, sign and return it as soon as possible.
- b. All monies received from the sale of the Journal, including payments for licensing of content to third parties, will be used for purposes associated with the continued publication of the Journal and to further the objectives of the Australian Archaeological Association Inc.
- c. Contributions should conform to the Journal's most current 'Notes to Contributors'. Failure to comply with these instructions could delay or even prevent publication.

This Agreement is between the Australian Archaeological Association Inc. ('the Publisher') and the undersigned author/s ('the Author/s') in respect of the contribution entitled _____ ('the Work'), which the Author/s submit to be considered for publication in Australian Archaeology ('the Journal').

1. The Author/s grant/s to the publisher an irrevocable and non-exclusive right to publish, reproduce and communicate the Work in whatever form the Publisher deems fit, including the right to enter into agreements authorising third parties to do the same.
2. The Author/s retain/s copyright in the Work and may publish or authorise others to publish the entire work or any part thereof, provided always that due acknowledgement is made in any further publication that the Work was originally published in the Journal.
3. The Author/s warrant/s that they are the sole copyright owners of the Work and that it contains nothing that is defamatory or of such a nature to incur liability of any kind whatsoever, and the Author/s further agree/s to indemnify the Publisher and its employees and agents against any liability, loss or harm caused by actions arising from the publication of the Work.
4. The Publisher has the sole right to determine publication and may make editorial changes of a non-substantive nature to the work without consulting the Author/s.
5. Where a Work has more than one Author, any one of those Authors may sign this Agreement on behalf of all. By so signing, that Author warrants that the other Author/s agree to the above conditions and have authorised for the Agreement to be signed on their behalf,
